Landscaping and pathways are officially unveiled Wednesday at the Tujunga Wash Greenway and Stream Restoration Project in Valley Glen. The project restores some of the natural function of the Tujunga Wash.
