

Marvin Braude Mulholland Gateway Park

3600 Reseda Boulevard, Tarzana, California 91365

Offering some of the most accessible and user-friendly terrain in the Santa Monica Mountains, Marvin Braude Mulholland Park encompasses 1,500 acres of wild land. Connecting with Topanga State Park and the 20,000 acre "Big Wild," the park offers hikers, mountain bikers and equestrian trails that lead into an urban-adjacent wilderness, perhaps unparalleled anywhere in the world. The principal trailhead is at the southern terminus of Reseda Boulevard. The park has beautifully manicured lawns for recreation and sporting activities, gorgeous city and mountain views, ample parking, restrooms, and potable water.

Directions: Marvin Braude Mulholland Gateway Park is located at the southern end of Reseda Boulevard. Enter the park 3.2 miles south of the Ventura Freeway on Reseda Boulevard.
